DKTE Institutes Innovation council organized a one day workshop on “Business Canvas Model” for Third year B.Tech Textile Chemistry Students. 55 students participated in the event. Session was chaired by Dr. Sachin Landage and Prof.V.Y.Badave, Innovation Ambassadors. They covered nine elements of canvas, scientific layout and importance to prepare BMC in the global era.

Business model canvas (BMC) is now the standard used not only by startups but also companies like Microsoft, GE, Mastercard. The goal is to look beyond spreadsheets, market research and financial projections. It is interesting to note that although the main focus of the BMC is to establish the foundation of your business model, it also helps in enhancing your business as it evolves. If you want to be a successful startup, you need something powerful like the business model canvas.

In each Group 8 students participated. 07 innovative business models were prepared for practice covering all the elements.
